Cleveland Considers His Defeat

Washington, November 7. The President-to-be was up early. He perused with the result calmly and philosophically. He talked quite freely about the returns and intimated that he can not be willing to [illegible] that his position on the tariff and the decided stand he took in favor of tariff reduction may have lost him a good many votes but still maintained if it were to be done over again he would follow the dictates of his convictions. The president received notedigrams from the national committee until late in the afternoon. From what he has heard he considers his defeat. He attributes his defeat to no one in particular.

Quay's Claims

New York, November 7. Senator Quay, chairman of the republican national committee, authorizes the following statement: The republicans on Tuesday carried by increased majority all the states that were carried by Blaine in '84, and in addition have New York by a plurality of 14,000 and Indiana by a plurality of from 1000 to 4000. West Virginia is still in doubt. General Harrison's election assured.

The Tribune's Estimate.

New York, November 7. The Tribune says: Revised returns of the vote for president with certain estimates where authentic returns are lacking give Harrison 11,000 plurality in this state. Returns and estimates from every county computed on an equally good basis with the Tribune table of pluralities for president, show that Hill has a plurality of about 4,500.

The Press on the Result

New York, November 7.—The Evening Post says: "Returns received this morning leave no room to doubt that the election of Cleveland and Thurman has been defeated. The result is a surprise to the country at large, but there is no reason at this writing to think that full returns will give a democratic majority.

Following are the head notes of the views of the Evening World: Portion Harrison looked as if Illinois might elect Cleveland, but later returns make it one more republican. You may as well call it President Harrison.

The Telegram says: So far the election of Harrison stands recorded as a great surprise. New York has defied the political calculations and must have cast a majority for Harrison, states generally as they were in '84.

The Evening Sun says: The last of the returns made up Wednesday the election of Harrison seemed beyond question. Certain Democratic States and districts [illegible] for the Republican candidate, while the Democratic majority in New York City was [illegible] far in excess of the most sanguine expectations. Nothing but the tariff [illegible] Democratic defeat.

The Times says: The Democrats will have a majority in the 51st congress somewhat larger than in the 50th.

Associated Press Special 2. The Chronicle-Democrat this morning says of the democratic defeat: The [illegible] message, while it was one of the [illegible] caused his defeat. We regret the action of President Cleveland as a matter of policy. The defeat does not affect the social standing of the [illegible] years. Grover [illegible] much to congratulate himself upon. Democratic [illegible] Hill's election [illegible]

Hoping Against Hope

New York, November 7.—The Evening World extra quotes Chairman Brice of the democratic national committee as having said: We can not concede anything and from latest returns [illegible] believe that Cleveland has carried New York. Following this in the World extra comes the announcement that at the national democratic headquarters and Fifth avenue hotel headquarters the announcement of the defeat of the democratic ticket was received with [illegible] the parlors there were filled with [illegible] latest news. The statement [illegible] that the democrats [illegible] Harrison has carried [illegible] states [illegible] as they were in 84.

Each man wears a dark blue helmet trimmed with yellow, and with a large gilt coat of arms. The boys will present a handsome appearance when they parade on Thanksgiving day.

The Wool Markets.

Coates Bros. give the following quotations for wool: Markets continue firm Holders are only selling when they can get full values, and many are indisposed to sell at present Some manufacturers are buying more freely while others are waiting. All interested in wool are looking to the result of the election and as to which policy will be supported by the country But when this is decided it will remain for congress to [illegible] the will of the people and it will probably be many months before any action will be had to change existing laws The situation must, therefore, continue for some time unless the present tariff, but with the election settled it is to be hoped that confidence may be maintained in the values of wool and woolens, and that trade may improve Best washed fleece is firm and in small supply Worsted wools are closely sold up Territory wools sell well when light and bright, but short heavy, dark wools are always difficult to move except at comparatively low figures The quotations for Colorado and New Mexico are as follows —

A SWEEPING VICTORY

Democratic Leaders Acknowledge Harrison's Election.

Chairman Brice Concludes to Give Up the Struggle.

Indiana, California and Nevada in the Republican Column.

Harrison Secures the Electoral Vote of West Virginia.

Delaware Comes Forward with a Surprise for the Democrats.

Confessions of the New York Press

NEW YORK November 8.—An extra World says Chairman Brice of the democratic national executive committee asked General Barnum's, the vice-Captain McClellan chairman of the campaign committee, was the only member of the national committee at the headquarters this morning. He made an authoritative announcement of Brice's concession of a republican victory. The World puts California and Indiana in the republican column and gives Harrison 233 votes in electoral college.

In regard to the congressional situation an extra World says: In congress as well as the presidency logic. As belated returns from congressional districts come in the complexion of the next house grows more and more and doubtful. This is the most important and interesting of the questions of the campaign yet undecided. It is a possibility that the republicans may have control of the Fifty first congress. The democratic majority of 1884 is dwindling away. Several estimates made by democrats in this city bring the margin down to two votes. Republicans are claiming that full returns will give them the house. This is improbable but a distinct possibility. There have been some surprising republican gains. Democratic St. Louis elected three republican congressmen. Republicans make apparently well based claims to gains in Michigan, but the democrats have gained in Virginia. New York's delegation is unchanged as to parties. The fact of the situation is there are enough districts yet uncertain to turn the house majority the other way.

NEW YORK November 8.—Under the heading "Tariff Reform Deferred" the Times (free trade) says: Harrison and Morton have been elected president and vice president of the United States. The majority for the republican candidates in the electoral college will be no less than that cast in '84 for Cleveland and Hendricks. Harrison has carried New York, Indiana, California, Michigan and Colorado, all of which have been regarded as debatable states. The majority in this state for Harrison will not be far from 15,000. In Indiana it will be very small, but in Minnesota, Iowa and Michigan, where the interest manifested in the tariff question was to Bend upon to effect a considerable change in the vote, the republicans developed their full strength. It is estimated that the pluralities on the national ticket are larger than those cast for Blaine in 1884. Connecticut gives a small majority for Cleveland. It showed marked democratic gains in manufacturing towns, where the question of tariff taxation was constantly and thoroughly discussed during the long campaign. New Jersey, a state greatly interested in manufacturing, not only more than doubled its democratic majority of 1884 but chooses a legislature that will return a democratic United States senator to succeed McPherson. Congressional elections were hotly contested and the outcome of the battle in many districts is surprising. By latest reports it appears the Fifty-first congress will be controlled by the democrats by an extremely small majority, which may be wiped out altogether by corrected returns from Virginia and Arkansas, North Carolina and Michigan in all of which states there are disputed results.

NEW YORK, November 8.—An extra edition of the Telegram just out says: The air has now cleared so completely that the presidential votes can be fairly seen. Harrison, as our friend Cox would say, is "Thoroughly elected in every respect." So sweeping indeed has been the victory that his majority on the electoral college will be at least 65. He has carried not only New York but Indiana Wisconsin and California by a safe majority.

A Surprise in West Virginia

WHEELING, November 8.—Dispatches received to night from the capital of the state announce that the democratic state treasurer Thompson, conceded the state to the republicans by from four to five hundred majority. This is a confirmation of the steady gains that have been coming in to day. The republican state committee here claim the state by a much larger majority. They claim to have at least three and probably a solid delegation of four congressmen. They claim a majority for the electoral ticket of 15 a majority in the legislature. The news of republican enthusiasm in this city tonight is unprecedented. Thousands of people have crowded the streets in front of the Intelligencer bulletin to read the bulletins and cheers by hand in hand every time at the "solid south" is shattered at last by the vote of th state.

Congratulations to the President Elect

INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—General Harrison began to receive congratulatory messages from New York and the east as early as 9 o'clock when the first election. From that moment to the present writing telegrams and letters of

They claim to have at least three and probably a solid delegation of four congressmen. They claim a majority for the electoral ticket of 15 a majority in the legislature. The news of republican enthusiasm in this city tonight is unprecedented. Thousands of people have crowded the streets in front of the Intelligencer bulletin to read the bulletins and cheers by hand in hand every time at the "solid south" is shattered at last by the vote of th state.

Congratulations to the President Elect

INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—General Harrison began to receive congratulatory messages from New York and the east as early as 9 o'clock when the first election. From that moment to the present writing telegrams and letters of

What Boss Cleveland

CHICAGO November 8.—The Tribune's extracts from a dispatch to the Daily News at the Washington correspondent, who has been in New York the past month. When President Cleveland had prepared the first draft of the message he went to Lakewood last December to consult with Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild. The secretary to submit the document for his criticism and remarked: Fairchild I have written something to be that will hurt me for re-election but it is right. The fulfillment of that prophecy was read in this morning's papers and that the tariff brought about as conceded by the managers of this campaign this morning. Cleveland lost votes in the manufacturing centers of New York and general none among the farmers. The reduced majority he received in Brooklyn was largely due to friends of Arthur. Was one of the democratic congressmen from that city who voted against the Mahone bill and was defeated for renomination by federal office holders for that reason. In New York city friends of Congressman McLaughlin, who was defeated for nomination to a similar measure and for a similar reason, got even with the administration when they went to the polls.

One of the chief causes of Harrison's large gain in the country perhaps most effective was the united cause of [illegible] democratic leaders throughout the state to Cleveland's claims, particularly in strong republican districts where there were no local offices to fight for. The president neglected these men to push the others ahead. They spent their time and money to elect him governor and then expected four years ago, and declined to give him any more credit until something had been put on record. Tim Campbell, the Democrat of the house of representatives, has been defeated for re-election by a Tammany man and will be greatly missed on the streets of Washington. Campbell is the man who put a ream of Cleveland's [illegible] grant some favor, because it would be unseemly to deal with the records. Of course of now, Mr. President the consideration is to state. Between friends. The entire list of congressmen elected in New York city are Tammany men, which is largely accounted for by the fact that the organization of the post [illegible] properly taken care of in the postoffice and custom house.

Hoosiers Happy and Hilarious

INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—The weather is cloudy and threatening streets very muddy. The town has apparently broken loose, now that General Harrison's election is beyond doubt. Pennsylvania street is crowded to suffocation and thousands of horns are blowing. The din is abominable. One cannot hear nor speak. Another Dan New Denison hotel, the crowd gathered [illegible] a crowd of 1,000 or 1,500 while the citizens of the big house are jammed. Along Washington and Illinois streets are gathered large crowds shouting and cheering for General Harrison. The crowds are naturally of a hilarious and boisterous disposition. It is therefore not to be held that any disrespect to the president was intended by the tons of laughter and efforts that are greeting a wagon now passing through the streets drawn by eight. [illegible] On top of the [illegible] half [illegible] mourners carrying huge [illegible] in their hands and the [illegible] trying with great labored decorum for every moments their feelings overcome them to such an extent they stand up and wave their hats and then sit down and wipe the tears away with their handkerchiefs. From the head of the [illegible] hangs a picture of President Cleveland. The eyes of the picture are very black while below is the inscription: "This done me up bad." As the funeral wagon passed along Pennsylvania avenue it was greeted with storms of applause and blowing of thousands of horns.

In the crowds are many men wearing red rosettes on their hats, but the bird is headless. Another device for amusing the rattlers is a pass headed:

"Salt river packet line. Pass—on account of British free trade—from Washington up Salt River. The steamer Lord Sackville West will leave Washington March 4th. Not good to return."

[Signed] G. CLEVELAND, Capt.
A. G. THURMAN, Mate.

The compass of the campaign pass bears the names of such landings as Matsonville, Mercerstown, Jeweystring and Byrnesport. Thousands of the [illegible] of the election are circulating in the city. It is thought the crowds will not unitarily undertake a street exhibition tonight if it does not rain.

Under the law of Indiana it is to the day when the supervisors of election convene in each county to canvass the returns. These boards are constituted now in session throughout the entire state and it is thought that by a late hour tonight the vote of the state by counties will be obtained although the [illegible] definite.

Probably never in the United States was witnessed such extraordinary and outlandish scenes of enthusiasm and demonstration as were exhibited here last night. Certainly the streets of Indianapolis never before saw such a sight. Its demonstration of that character following [illegible] news of General Harrison's election as compared with the scenes of today and tonight. The echoes of the day whenever the [illegible] [illegible] distant [illegible] [illegible] thousand cars of [illegible] [illegible] republicans.

About two o'clock the rain which had been pouring steadily for five hours ceased and in an incredibly short time the streets were again [illegible] with yelling hooting and horn blowing. Thousands were marching back and

A Circular.

The executive committee of the University club have issued the following circular which the members should read

To the members of the University club.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN The executive have been considering the question of increasing the attendance at the meetings of the club To this end they have decided to make this appeal

We have a membership of about seventy, and yet there were perhaps not more than fifteen members present at either of the meetings held this fall There ought to be sufficient interest among college men and women in this to sustain a vigorous Club of this kind.

If you have been absent heretofore will you not make it a point to be present at as many future meetings as possible If the time or place of holding the meetings does not please you the executive committee will be glad to receive suggestions and will try and arrange matters so as to suit as large a number as possible.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, November 13 at 7:30 sharp

A paper "The Associate Charity Work," will be read by President Slocum

TEMPERANCE ITEMS.

A member of the medical staff in the London hospital being recently asked by a reporter of the Pall Mall Gazette how many of the cases treated in the institution are attributed to intemperance, replied, "It would be difficult to estimate the number, but it is enormously great We sometimes find each child born with drunkards' livers due to the habit of giving infants gin to soothe them while teething Drink is with us a source of much trouble If the public houses were shut we should have to close half our wards or rather we should be able to take twice as many patients

There are many temperance societies in Japan and all are working for the principle of total abstinence The national temperance society contains members of higher position than any other and publishes a magazine at the capital North Shore temperance society in the latest organization and is carried on in connection with a Christian mission The efficiency of the work of the societies is proved by the fact that statistics have been adopted in two or three of the villages The temperance association organized in 1886 with eighty members now has nine hundred and published a magazine The Temperance which has attained a large circulation

ROSWELL CITY!

WHERE IS IT? Why, just adjoining the City Limits on the north at the WESTERN TERMINUS of the Great Rock Island Railroad,

Where their shops are to be built and where under precisely the same conditions we shall see

A Second Colorado City.

Mechanics, Artisans, Investors, Tradesmen, Professional Men, Day Laborers

Here is the opportunity you have been waiting for ever since the announcement last spring that the Rock Island railroad had decided to build to Colorado Springs.

The Beautiful Tract of Land in which Roswell City is Located is almost at your Door. It is within twenty minutes drive of the finest portion of Colorado Springs, and is situated on the west side of the Monument river, the same side of the river as the lands of the Rock Island railroad, where the buildings of the railroad company are now in course of erection. The station of Roswell has been established at this point, the round house and station being [illegible] of which is to be the principal business street of the city. The lands of the Rock Island railroad and those of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad extend for half a mile along the eastern border of this new city, and furnish excellent facilities for the establishment of manufactories and for shipment.

The location of this new city is on ground sloping gently to the east, rising gradually from the railroad track towards the mesa on the west, and furnishes most beautiful and airy protected building sites for the thriving city which is bound to spring up at once in that locality.

There is no doubt about it, that this is the best chance to make money on lots, that has ever been offered in this vicinity.

Prices are Very Low, Terms Easy, and Values will Doubtless Double or Treble in a Few Weeks.

Negotiations are about concluded with a large manufacturing plant, to locate in the new city, and many others are sure to follow on account of its superior facilities.

To meet the immediate demands for dwellings the company will erect a score of houses and stores which will be ready for occupancy within three weeks.

GO AND INVESTIGATE FOR YOURSELVES and we will guarantee that if you are looking for an investment or a home, you will not have to look any further.

THE GREAT TEXAS REMEDY.

Following up the discoveries of modern science, established the fact that the cause of a majority of the diseases which afflict men and animals arises from the presence of microbes or germs. Wm. Ridout, of Austin, Texas, has invented the only method known to the world of exterminating them from the system. It is an infallible remedy in the [illegible] of the Lungs, Bronchial Tubes, Catarrh, Blood Poisons, Malaria, Dyspepsia, Skin Diseases, Fevers, and Loss of Vital Stamina in all forms. It is a certain remedy for diseases peculiar to women and children.

As an appetizer, and as a blood cleanser, it has no equal among medicines now known.

Even Las Animas the banner democratic county of the state was carried along by the tidal wave which swept Colorado on Tuesday. It joins the republican rank with a majority of 800.

Justice Stanley Matthews who it was feared for some weeks was on his death bed is now pronounced out of danger by his physicians. His death would have been a national calamity for it would have taken from the supreme bench one of its ablest members.

Mrs Cleveland has presided over the social side of this administration with a grace and dignity which has quite won out gallant American hearts, and which republicans will find with delight the retirement of the democratic president then will be general regret that his charming wife must share his defeat.

The wisdom of the choice of Senator Quay as chairman of the republican national committee has been completely proven. As an organizer he is a master hand and the campaign through it has been managed with consummate skill. Much credit is due to him for his efforts to prevent fraud and procure an honest ballot. That his efforts in this direction were eminently successful is shown by the fact that the New York press pronounce it the fairest election that has ever been held in that city.

Mr. Winkler hopes to give the first concert of the series already announced on Monday afternoon, November 26th, either in the old Presbyterian church or in the lecture room of the new one. In addition to the usual vocal and instrumental solos, the programme will include a trio by Rubinstein and a quartette by Mozart. Miss Robinson, whose singing has been received with such enthusiasm in Denver, will appear here for the first time. The pianist will be Mr Koelle of Denver. Although there seems to be no doubt of the willingness of musical people to support these concerts, it is impossible to begin the series unless a number of subscriptions sufficient to guarantee against loss, be promised in advance. The number still falls short of what is absolutely necessary, and to morrow November 20 will as already announced decide whether or not we are to have the concerts. An immediate response is requested from such as are still intending to subscribe.

The campaign just ended has been a remarkable one. The forces of both parties began work early, the fight was earnestly fought from first to last and the interest and enthusiasm of all classes of people sustained throughout. All this tended to make the campaign a unique and remarkable one. But above all it has been an educational campaign and in this respect of incalculable value to the public. Industrial questions and questions of social and political economy which have heretofore been left to college professors but which directly affect every individual, have been discussed from every stump in the land. The opinions of conduct men have been quoted and reported. Magazines and newspapers have filled their columns with articles by high authorities on all phases of the subjects. Thus every facility for enlightening the public has been given them, and their interest and diligent study of these questions proves that they desire to be enlightened.

When Job Cooper was nominated for election was a foregone conclusion by the returns thus far received would seem to indicate that his majority will be greater any that was given for the party ticket. His most sincere admirers believe that twelve hundred votes for him would not be too many. Before the campaign opened Mr Cooper had many friends in Colorado became aware the republican party though the dominant one, had been rebuked by defeat for its reckless and inefficient nominations. The ticket put forward by the democrats in Denver on September fourth with the warning of two years ago before them fully realized that if they again disregarded the intelligence of the people they would again be defeated. It was this feeling which led to the nomination of the party in the nomination of Mr. Cooper. From the first he proved a strong candidate because of his well known and unquestioned personal character. Mr Patterson had a strong following but despite the latter's brilliant and energetic canvass, which has been a notable feature of the campaign Mr Cooper's triumph is unparalleled in the history of the state. Mr Cooper will enter upon the duties of the governorship in the very unusual position of having called into office with the people have called him with a majority. With Governor Cooper at the helm the state will have a wise and able administration for the next two years.

Mexican News.

CITY OF MEXICO, November 8.—The Mexican International has decided to build a branch from Barro to Monterey connecting with Tampico.

A train on the Mexican railway carrying 63 prisoners was derailed. Twenty-three cars went down the embankment. Several persons were injured and a fight ensued.

There is intense excitement here over election news from the United States. Betting on the result is heavy.
